DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 197 25 336 A1. The reference discloses the cooling system for a vehicle batteries having, inter alia, an air intake feeds outside air to batteries. See translation. However, the reference fails to disclose the specific location of the air intake and/or battery and/or control modules. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have relocated the specific parts to conform to the specific vehicle, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

It would further be obvious to have used the ac air to cool the battery since it is well known that the best type of air to cool a hot battery is cold air or air that has a lower temperature than the temperature of a body that is being cooled.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10/31/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is best to cool a body and/or multiple bodies by "clumping" them together because it is more efficient by allowing the same air to pass through at one time. The same temperature is moving over the bodies. Furthermore, it would involve less duct works and thereby freeing up space for other devices and/or making the engine bay smaller.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
